Curcumin and resveratrol are two compounds with multiple pharmacological actions and known anti-cancer effects. This study aimed to investigate their effects on myeloma cell growth and to identify the mechanisms of action. Myeloma cells were co-treated with curcumin (50 μ M) and resveratrol (50 μ M) for 24h. Western blotting was used to detect protein levels and the miR-125b expression was detected by quantitative real-time PCR (qRT-PCR). Curcumin and resveratrol synergistically suppressed myeloma cell proliferation. The results of Western blotting showed that the expression levels of cyclin-dependent kinase

Dry, windy, dusty road conditions in B.C. are set to become a summertime norm after a late-winter storm sends dust records tumbling. The dust storm was responsible for eight air quality alerts and exceeded the index level dozens of times, according to Environment Canada. "This dust storm will leave lasting effects on air quality for several days," said Environment Canada. Record-shattering dust storms like this one are becoming more common after a late winter storm, leaving records tumbling across B.C.
