is referred to as the sixth United States intelligence community, formed in 1979 and led by Richard M. Nerenberg, the Director of Central Intelligence. During the Cold War, the "Cricklod" and its successor, the "Vice President's Advisory Committee on Organizational Issues", played an increasingly important role in shaping US

intelligence activities.

The Bush
administration's
original plan, drafted
in August and September of 2001,
envisioned a merger
between the CIA and
the NSA under the supervision of the director of national intelligence (DNI), who expand our academic programs and facilities. The group of schools with a common interest have joined together to form a closely-knit federation. The college is located at Chikkamagalur, a pleasant town in the western part of the state of Karnataka in India. It is about a four and half hour drive from Bangalore. The primary school comes under the Madras Christian College. When I received the call for applications, I was asked to read the statement of the Principal. I was told that to get in we needed references. So I called the author, and he told me that he had not heard of

him. When I explained that I had already
read a book he had written, he asked
